

The Hills Nature Committee is having their annual star party on Saturday, September 28 at the home of Peter Gottschling and Lynne Aldrich. This is your chance to see what is up in the dark skies of The Hills and why it is important to keep the sky dark for the future. There will be three or 4 telescopes set up in the driveway and two more up in the observatory. You will have a chance to get telescopic views of Saturn and Jupiter as well as big galaxies, nebulae, double stars and sparkling star clusters. Your local amateur astronomers Peter Gottschling and Joe McMichael will be there to operate the scopes and answer questions. We can only accommodate a limited number of people so please RSVP by September 12 so we can begin to plan for the evening. To sign up please send an email to petergottschling@sbcglobal.net by Tuesday, September 10.

Thanks,

Peter out in Possum Kingdom